The Lara Gown has a tie up bodice which allows flexibility with your bust measurements.

The waist measurement is the most important measurement for this dress. For the waist measurement, ensure you measure where you would like the skirt to sit on your body eg: high waist or drop waist.

The hips measurement does not matter for the Lara gown because it is a full skirt and any hip measurement will fit.

The waist to hem measurement is 120cm

The split length from the waist is 20cm.

Additional tips on getting the best measurements:

Stand up straight with both arms lifted and feet together

Measuring Your Bust:

1. Take the tape around your back
2. Bring it across your bust at the fullest part
3. Record measurement

Measuring Your Waist:

1. Wrap the tape around your waist just above your belly button or naturally where you curve in when you bend side to side.
2. Record measurement

Measuring Your Hips:

1. Loop the tape completely around your bottom and thighs at the fullest part
2. Record measurement

Now that you have all three measurements, make sure you match them accordingly--bust-waist-hips. For example: 90-65-95

Extra tips:

- When measuring over underwear, keep the tape level and pull it together, but not too tight.
- If you will be wearing special undergarments with your dress, measure over those.
- If you are in between sizes, choose the larger one as it is easier to take in a dress than to let it out.
- And remember, every dress and every fabric fits differently, so sizing can vary with every dress.
